Mickey thought of himself as a simple man whose happiest moments were with his wife whether on a grand cruise around the world or in small talk while sipping a glass of good French wine. He loved Dee more than life itself and often told her that he married her so he could kiss her any time he wanted. He also loved celebrating with great food and wine while hosting family and friends. Mickey was so proud to be French and even more proud to be American. Burial services with full military honors will be held at a Military National Cemetery. A farewell fête is planned to celebrate his life at the Fort Walton Yacht Club on Saturday, 17 July 2021, 3:00 - 5:00 p.m. where family and friends are invited to raise a glass of wine in his memory and to celebrate his happy life.
